On 29 and 30 June, 2011 the Action Network Human Rights - Philippines in cooperation with the Konrad-Adenauer-Foundation organised the expert conference "Human Rights in the Philippines. Trends and Challenges under the Aquino Government". It was the aim of the conference to inform about the current situation of human rights in the Philippines, one year after the President Aquino took office. The panel offered an overview on the legal framework, the degree of implementation and the context in which human rights violations take place. Afterwards, it was discussed what needs to be done in specific areas, such as the security, justice or political sector, in order to fundamentally improve the human rights situation.
